Neutral display cabinet, 121.2 × 27 × 15h cm, with aluminium edging and straight glass panels, steel

Description

Why buy it?

This neutral display cabinet with an aluminium frame is ideal for anyone looking for an elegant and functional way to showcase their products. Thanks to its minimalist design and technical specifications, this display cabinet is perfectly suited to shops, patisseries, cafés and other commercial premises. Its modern aesthetic and robust construction ensure practicality, safety and style in any professional setting.

Key Features

- Straight tempered glass panels:
  Made from high-quality toughened glass, the front panels offer superior safety and greater impact resistance compared to traditional glass. The straight design gives a modern and refined look, perfect for showcasing the products on display.
- Anodised aluminium frame:
  The anodised aluminium frame not only provides lightness and stability but also ensures optimal resistance to corrosion and wear. The elegant and discreet aluminium edging blends seamlessly with the display cabinet's overall design.
- Methacrylate side panels:
  The methacrylate side panels are lightweight, durable and highly transparent, offering a clear view from every angle. This innovative material is safer than glass and ensures greater durability.
