Table with stainless steel legs and a base panel 60 cm deep, measuring 200×60 cm

Description

Why buy it?

This table is the ideal choice for anyone looking for a compact yet extremely durable worktop. Made entirely from stainless steel – a material that guarantees durability, hygiene and ease of cleaning – it is designed to fit perfectly into professional environments such as restaurant kitchens, workshops and delicatessens. Its compact depth also makes it perfect for tighter spaces, whilst still offering the practicality of an additional work surface thanks to the lower shelf.

Key features

- High-quality stainless steel construction
  The entire table structure is made of stainless steel, a material synonymous with corrosion resistance, durability and maximum hygiene. Ideal for environments where frequent cleaning and contact with food are the order of the day.
- Lower shelf for added convenience
  The lower shelf provides a handy extra space for storing utensils, containers or work materials, helping to keep the top surface clear and tidy. A key feature for optimising space management in the kitchen.
- Compact depth of 60 cm
  With a depth of just 60 cm, this table fits perfectly even into the tightest of spaces, without compromising on functionality. It is the ideal solution for compact kitchens or work areas where every centimetre counts.
- Optimal dimensions for everyday use
  The overall dimensions of 200 x 60 x 85h cm offer a good balance between work surface area and overall footprint. The standard height allows for comfortable use whilst standing and fits in easily with other kitchen equipment.
