Countertop heated display unit, 55.4 × 36.1 × 31.1h cm, straight-sided glass panels, 35 litres, +30 to +90 °C

Description

You can keep your dishes warm in an elegant, functionally designed display cabinet with Ristoattrezzature. Serve only freshly baked, fragrant goods by purchasingthe countertop heated display cabinet with straight-sided glass panels from our website.

You'll have a high-quality, high-performance product, ideal for offering your customers only the very best, always at the right temperature.

The heated countertop display case is, in fact, essential in delicatessens, rotisseries and cafés, and ensures the quality of your dishes remains intact.

Design and operation

The Ristoattrezzature heated countertop display case measures 55.4 x 36.1 x 31.1h cm and features an elegant, minimalist design thanks to its straight-sided glass panels.

Completely transparent, the display cabinet offers a full view of the food, ensuring an inviting presentation for customers.

Made from stainless steel and glass, it ensures sturdiness and excellent performance, making it ideal for keeping sandwiches, mini pizzas, fried and cooked foods warm.

Inside , it is fitted with one fixed, non-adjustable chrome-plated rack and one intermediate rack, whilst access is provided via one hinged door at the front and one hinged door on the user side.

The maximum capacity of this display unit is 35 litres, whilst the operating temperature is adjustable between +30 and +90 °C.

The temperature can be set using a knob located at the rear, alongside the ON/OFF switch.

It is electrically powered with a power rating of 0.80 kW

Cleaning and maintenance

The heated display cabinet must be thoroughly cleaned every day. Croissants and mini pizzas constantly leave crumbs which can burn and cause a bad smell.

To make cleaning easier, the display cabinet is fitted with a crumb tray that is easy to remove and sanitise. The support racks and glass shelf are also removable.

When cleaning these surfaces, do not use corrosive detergents that may scratch the stainless steel surface; a damp cloth and a mild degreasing detergent are sufficient.

Why this is the right product for you

High-quality, professional display units, specifically designed to ensure maximum hygiene and cleanliness, are far more reassuring for customers. Seeing a tidy counter and food items well protected from external factors conveys a sense of safety and professionalism.

Serving croissants or mini pizzas at the perfect temperature, without having to reheat them in the microwave, allows you to offer a more fragrant product. Furthermore,the countertop heated display case is a functional display unit which, unlike other heating systems, provides uniform heat. This means you can keep the temperature of your dishes constant at all times.

This countertop model also allows you to place it securely on the counter; it is practical and convenient. Move it easily to suit your needs, whilst the support feet provide excellent stability.

Its versatility means it can accommodate a variety of dishes: from hot deli dishes to mini pizzas and fast-food sandwiches.

Ideal for use in any catering environment.
